Summary of CV

This section describes briefly a summary of your career in science, academic and research; the main scientific and technological achievements and goals in your line of research in the medium -and long- term. It also includes other important aspects or peculiarities.

Holding a degree in Contemporary History from the Università di Bologna (Italy, 2005), a Master's in Contemporary History by the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona (UAB) and the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid (Spain, 2007), and a Doctorate in History by the UAB and Università di Bologna (2011), my research has focused on political history and political and cultural thought in the twentieth century.

My doctoral thesis, titled “El peso de la nación. Nicola Bombacci, Paul Marion y Óscar Pérez Solís en la Europa de entreguerras”, completed with the support of a pre-doctoral FPU scholarship and with research stays at the Università di Roma Tre (2008) and the Université Paris IV Sorbonne (2009), examined the issue of political leaders transitioning from left wing organizations to fascism in Italy, France and Spain in the interwar period. The thesis, which earned four awards, was published in 2014. On this subject I have also published a dozen chapters in different books and articles in journals in Spain, Italy and Portugal, as well as edited a monographic dossier on the subject for the journal “Spagna Contemporanea” (issue 48/2015).

From 2014 onwards, thanks to a postdoctoral scholarship from the Instituto de História Contemporânea of the Universidade Nova de Lisboa, I have expanded my research into political defections to other historical, geographic and thematic contexts. Likewise, I have deepened my study of some interrelated issues, such as the relationship between class and nation in the contemporary era, the internal debates within socialism after the Great War, the origins and the structuring of fascists regimes, nationalist ideology -with special emphasis placed on Catalan nationalism in the the twentieth century and in the present-, and the circulation of ideas among intellectuals in Europe. On these issues I have edited one collective book, and have published ten chapters in other books and numerous articles in scientific journals.

In the last ten years I have contributed papers and presentations to more than fifty scientific conferences and meetings in Spain and abroad (Italy, France, Portugal, Austria, the United States, and Cuba). I have participated and continue to participate in numerous funded R&D projects, as well as different research groups and institutions in Spain, Italy and Portugal. I've stayed closely connected to existing research networks at the national and international level by organizing academic meetings and participating in scientific journals and editorial collections, both as a member of drafting and research committees, and as an external collaborator and reviewer. Likewise, I'm strongly committed to the dissemination of the results of such research through the publication of numerous articles in daily newspapers and magazines, and through collaboration with other media channels (radio, television, etc.).

In September 2016, I was hired as an associate professor by the Departamento de Historia Moderna y Contemporánea of the UAB, where I have carried out teaching activities and have supervised final degree projects, and a final Master's degree project. Over the next five years, my goal is to pursue further research into the previously described topics so as to publish a monograph, a collective book, and more than a dozen book chapters and articles in high standard international scientific journals.

General quality indicators of scientific research

This section describes briefly the main quality indicators of scientific production (periods of research activity, experience in supervising doctoral theses, total citations, articles in journals of the first quartile, H index...). It also includes other important aspects or peculiarities.

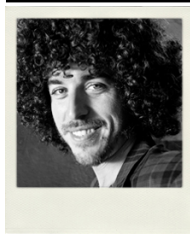

Worth highlighting is the monograph "El peso de la nación. Nicola Bombacci, Paul Marion y Óscar Pérez Solís en la Europa de entreguerras", published by the Universidad de Santiago de Compostela (2014). The book, which has been reviewed by 7 scientific journals in three different countries and cited 7 times (Google Scholar), is the result of my doctoral thesis (Doctor Europeus), completed at the Universidad Autónoma de Barcelona and the Università di Bologna (2011). The thesis has been awarded three prizes (first prize in the Cátedra Juana de Vega award, 2012; second prize in the Premio Miguel Artola, 2012; Premi Extraordinari de Doctorat de la UAB, 2015) while the book received a special mention in the SISSCO Opera Prima Award (2015).

Secondly, also of note is the publication of the collective book "El proceso separatista en Cataluña. Análisis de un pasado reciente (2006-2017)", co-edited with E. Ucelay-Da Cal, Professor Emeritus, and professor A. González i Vilalta, published in 2017 by Comares (twelfth in the Spanish publishing houses ranking, SPI) as part of their History collection. Comares also published the chapter "Fascismo y modernismo. Política y cultura en la Europa de entreguerras (1914-1945)", in the book edited by Professor F. Cobo Romero and associate professors M.Á. Del Arco and C. Hernández (2016). Another 10 book chapters have appeared under different houses that have published significant contributions by distinguished researchers in the field of contemporary history (Institución Fernando el Católico; El Viejo Topo; Tinta-da-China; Universitat d'Alacant, etc.), while the critical edition of "Un español en la Komintern y otros escritos sobre la Rusia soviética" (by Óscar Pérez Solís) was published in 2018 by Renacimiento.

Third, also noted should be my work editing the monographic dossier Traiettorie biografiche del fascismo spagnolo together with Professor X.M. Núñez Seixas, for the publication "Spagna Contemporanea" (48/2015), the most important non-Spanish scientific journal dedicated Spanish contemporary history (Class A in the field of Contemporary History by Italy's ANVUR), as well as the publication of over 12 articles in scientific journals indexed in Spain, Italy and Portugal, such as "Memoria e Ricerca" (ERIHPlus, Class A in Contemporary History), "Segle XX" (CIRC, Latindex), "Rubrica Contemporanea" (CIRC, ERIHPlus) and "Passato e Presente" (ERIHPlus; Class A in Contemporary History). I have also written over 20 reviews of scientific books, which have been published in some of these journals.

Fourth, I have maintained a constant participation in academic conferences, both as a keynote speaker and with oral communication. Particularly noteworthy are those of the Asociación de Historia Contemporánea (2008, 2010, 2012, 2014, 2016), the SISSCO (2015), the Asociación de Historia Actual (2017), the Association for Spanish and Portuguese Historical Studies (2014) and the European Social Science History Conference (2016), as well as different seminars such as that of the Fundación Ortega y Gasset (2016). I have also coordinated four workshops held at academic conferences, and have organized nine academic conferences.

Fifth, I wish to highlight my participation in academic associations (AHF, AHA, SISSCO), in international cooperation networks (NETCOR, ENTPB, SIdIF), and on the editorial board of magazines (3) and publishing collectives (2), as well as my activity reviewing articles for scientific journals (10).
